FEDERAL LABOR RELATIONS AUTHORITY

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

36th SEMIANNUAL REPORT TO THE CONGRESS

April 1, 2006
through
September 30, 2006

Date Issued: October 5, 2006

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This is the 36th Semi-Annual report issued by the Office of the Inspector General (OIG) at the Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA). This report, submitted pursuant to section 5 of the Inspector General Act, summarizes the major activities and accomplishments of the FLRA Inspector General for the period of April 1, 2006 to September 30, 2006.

During this reporting period, the FLRA Office of the Inspector General conducted the FY 2006 Financial Statement Audit, conducted the Personally Identifiable Information Assessment for the Presidential Council for Integrity and Efficiency/Executive Council for Integrity and Efficiency (PCIE/ECIE), and conducted the 2006 Financial Information Security Management Information (FISMA) Act Evaluation. The FLRA Inspector General, submitted to the FLRA Executive Director updated 1998 and 1999 Inspector General instructions for implementation, created one new Inspector General Instruction and continued reviewing FLRA instructions.

During this reporting period, the FLRA Inspector General processed 7 hotline calls and activated one complaint regarding FLRA case handling which was on hold until the case processing was completed. The FLRA Inspector General also provided information for investigations conducted by the Department of Justice, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Office of Personnel Management on employees who had applied for jobs with these agencies. The FLRA Inspector General also conducted a deposition for the Department of Justice regarding an Office of the Inspector General FY 2004 investigation and information related to contractor claims regarding the FLRA related to the FY 2005 Financial Statement Audit.

During this reporting period, the FLRA Executive Director began to review previous oversight findings and recommendations, which had not been responded to by management since 2002. The FLRA Inspector General requested that the oversight findings and recommendations released during the last two years be addressed first and that appropriate implementation dates be provided as soon as possible.

THE FEDERAL LABOR RELATIONS AUTHORITY

The FLRA is an independent agency responsible for directing the labor-management relations for 1.9 million non-postal Federal employees worldwide, nearly 1.1 million of who are exclusively represented in approximately 2,200 bargaining units. The FLRA is charged by the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations (The Statute), section 7105, with providing leadership in establishing policies and guidance relating to Federal sector labor-management relations, resolving disputes arising among Federal agencies and unions representing Federal employees, and ensuring compliance with the Statute.

The FLRA represents the Federal government's consolidated approach to labor-management relations. The FLRA is "three components in one," fulfilling legal statutory responsibilities through the Authority, the Office of General Counsel and the Federal Service Impasses Panel. The FLRA has 7 regional offices and one satellite office. The FLRA also provides staff support to two other organizations, the Foreign Service Impasses Disputes Panel and the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board.

The Authority is a quasi-judicial body with three full-time Members who are appointed for 5-year terms by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate. One member is appointed by the President to serve as Chairman of the Authority and as Chief Executive and Administrative Officer of the FLRA.

The Authority adjudicates disputes arising under the Statute, deciding cases concerning the negotiability of collective bargaining agreement proposals, unfair labor practice (ULP) allegations, representation petitions, and exceptions to grievance arbitration awards. In addition, consistent with its statutory responsibility to provide leadership in establishing policies and guidance to participants in the Federal labor-management relations program, and as part of the Collaboration and Alternative Dispute Resolution (CADR) Program described below, the Authority assists Federal agencies and unions in understanding their rights and responsibilities under the Statute and resolving their disputes through interest-based problem-solving rather than adjudication.

In addition to the three Member Offices, the Authority component of the FLRA also houses the Office of Administrative Law Judges, the Collaboration and Alternative Dispute Resolution Office, the Office of the Solicitor, the Office of the Executive Director, and the Office of the Inspector General.

Office of the Administrative Law Judges: The FLRA's Administrative Law Judges (ALJ's) are appointed by the Authority to conduct due process hearings in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act and issue recommended decisions in cases involving alleged unfair labor practices. ALJ's also conduct hearings and issue recommended decisions involving applications for attorney fees and files pursuant to the Back Pay Act or the Equal Access to Justice Act. In the course of their duties, ALJ's conduct pre-hearing conferences, issue subpoenas, rule on motions and evidentiary issues, and engage in settlement efforts. An ALJ decision may be affirmed, modified, or reversed, in whole or in part, by the Authority. If no exceptions are filed to an ALJ decision, the decision is adopted by the Authority and becomes final and binding upon the parties.

Office of Policy, Project & Performance Management: The Office of Policy, Project & Performance Management is responsible for agency-wide strategic policy and planning, including the role of Chief Human Capital Officer. The office also provides oversight with respect to FLRA performance management initiatives. The office drafts, reviews, and approves all agency-wide instructions and policies; oversees the Chairman's and the Administration's initiatives; and develops agency-wide initiatives, which upon the Chairman's final approval, are implemented through the Office of the Executive Director. The office also houses the agency's congressional affairs function and serves as the Chairman's primary point of contact with the Solicitor, Executive Director, EEO Director, and Inspector General.

Collaboration and Alternative Dispute Resolution (CADR) Office: The CADR Office is responsible for coordinating, supporting, and expanding the unified CADR Program. This program involves a variety of collaboration and alternative dispute resolution techniques at all steps of the process, from investigation and prosecution to the adjudication of cases and resolution of bargaining impasses. The CADR Program also provides facilitation and training programs to assist labor and management in developing constructive approaches to conducting their relationship.

Office of the Solicitor: The Office of the Solicitor represents the Authority in court proceedings before all United States Courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court, U.S. Courts of Appeals, and Federal District Courts. The office serves as the agency's in-house counsel, providing legal advice to all FLRA components. The Solicitor is also the Designated Agency Ethics Officers under the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, as amended.

Office of the Executive Director: The Office of the Executive Director provides operational support to all components of the FLRA, including budget and finance, human resources, procurement, administrative services, and information resources management and is responsible for developing and implementing agency-wide initiatives, such as strategic planning.

Office of the Inspector General: The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) is responsible for directing and carrying out audits and investigations related to the FLRA programs and operations. In addition, the Inspector General is authorized to create and recommend policies that promote economic, efficient, and effective agency programs, which prevent fraud, waste, abuse and mismanagement. The Inspector General is responsible for keeping the Chairman, FLRA and the Congress fully informed of problems and deficiencies, as well as, the necessity for corrective actions. Public Law 100-504 and the Inspector General Act, as amended, mandate the requirements, objectivity and independence of Federal Agency Inspectors General.

The Federal Service Impasses Panel: The Federal Service Impasses Panel (FSIP or the Panel) is composed of seven part-time Members who are appointed by the President to serve for a 5-year term. One Member is appointed by the President to serve as the Panel Chair. The Panel resolves bargaining impasses between Federal agencies and unions representing Federal employees arising from negotiations over conditions of employment under the Statute and the Federal Employees Flexible and Compressed Work Schedules Act. If bargaining between the parties, followed by mediation assistance, proves unsuccessful, the Panel has the authority to recommend procedures and to take whatever action it deems necessary to resolve the impasse.

The Foreign Service Labor Relations Board: The Foreign Service Labor Relations Board, (the Board) was created by the Foreign Service Act of 1980 to administer the Labor-Management Relations Program for Foreign Service employees in the U.S. Information Agency, the Agency for International Development, and the Departments of State, Agriculture and Commerce. The Board is composed of three Members, including the Chairman of the Authority who appoints the other two Members, who serve on a part-time basis. The Chairman of the Authority also serves as Chairman of the Board. The FLRA General Counsel acts as General Counsel for the Board, and the Authority staff provides necessary support to the Board.

The Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel: The Foreign Service Impasse Disputes Panel (the Disputes Panel) was also created by the Foreign Service Act of 1980. The Disputes Panel is composed of five part-time Members who are appointed by the Chairman of the Foreign Service Labor Relations Board (the FLRA Chair). The Disputes Panel resolves bargaining impasses between Federal agencies and Foreign Service personnel in the U.S. Information Agency, the Agency for International Development, and the Departments of State, Agriculture, and Commerce, over conditions of employment under the Foreign Service Act of 1980. The FSIP staff supports the Disputes Panel.

The FLRA's headquarters is located in Washington, D.C. The FLRA maintains regional offices in Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Denver, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C.

FLRA MISSION STATEMENT

The Federal Labor Relations Authority exercises leadership under the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute to promote stable, constructive labor relations that contribute to a more effective Government.

The mission of the FLRA is to carry out five primary statutory responsibilities as efficiently as possible and in a manner that gives full effect to the rights afforded employees and agencies under the Statute.

Under the Statute, the primary responsibilities of the FLRA include:

- Determining the appropriateness of units for labor organization representation;
- Adjudicating exceptions to arbitrator's awards;
- Resolving complaints of unfair labor practices; and
- Resolving impasses and issues relating to the duty to bargain.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

- Conducts and supervises internal reviews, audits and evaluations of the programs and operations of the FLRA;
- Provides leadership and coordination, and recommends actions to management, which: (1) promote economy, efficiency, and effectiveness in agency programs and operations; and (2) prevent and detect fraud, waste, abuse, and mismanagement of government resources; and
- Keeps the Chairman, FLRA management, and the Congress fully informed regarding problems and deficiencies, and the progress of corrective action.

The Inspector General's Office is currently staffed with one full time Inspector General and one full time Administrative Assistant. When required, the FLRA Inspector General uses contractor auditors to perform FLRA audits. The Office of the Inspector General's FY 2005 budget was $77,500.00. The FLRA, Inspector General submitted a request to the Chairman, FLRA for an increase in operational funding in the FLRA Office of Inspector General for an FY 2007 Information technology security audit. No response has been received. The Inspector General was not provided with the 2006 Office of Inspector General budget.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the FLRA Office of Inspector General is to provide FLRA leadership, along with an independent and objective assessment of the organization's efficiency and effectiveness. This is accomplished through proactive evaluations of FLRA operational processes. The Inspector General provides necessary oversight and serves as a catalyst for improving and maximizing the efficiency and integrity of FLRA programs and operations. The goal of the Inspector General's work is to maximize the effectiveness of FLRA programs by evaluating performance and identifying ways to make these programs more efficient and effective. In addition, the FLRA Inspector General strives to prevent and detect fraud, waste, abuse, and mismanagement of the FLRA's resources and operations, which could adversely impact the organization's integrity and ability to perform its mission in a timely, customer responsive manner.

The primary objectives of the Office of Inspector General are as follows:

- To evaluate the efficiency and effectiveness of FLRA program and resource management and identify best practices, as well as causative factors, impeding the accomplishment of the FLRA mission.
- To assist the Chairman and FLRA management in carrying out their responsibilities by providing them with objectives and timely information on the conduct of FLRA operations, together with the Inspector General's independent analysis, conclusions, and recommendations.
- To use evaluations, internal reviews, and more traditional assessment tools of audits, inspections, and investigations, to maximize oversight and strengthen system and process controls.
- To support the Administration and Congress in maximizing Government integrity and efficiency and minimizing the occurrence of fraud, waste, abuse, and mismanagement.

AUDIT/INTERNAL REVIEW ACTIVITY

During this reporting period the FLRA Office of the Inspector General performed the following audits and reviews in compliance with Government auditing standards:

Audit of 2006 FLRA Financial Statements

In Process

During this reporting period, the Office of the Inspector General contracted audit of FLRA's 2006 compliance with Financial Statements began and is currently being conducted. Part of this audit will include an assessment of previous financial audits conducted from 1998 to 2004 to assess whether previous findings and recommendations, which were not previously addressed by FLRA management, are still accessible. Financial Statement Audit findings from 2004 and 2005 will also be reviewed during this audit.

The current financial statement audit includes the review of FLRA's balance sheet and the related statements of net cost, changes in net positions, budgetary resources and financing for fiscal year 2006. This audit also includes a comprehensive review of FLRA internal controls and risk assessments related to the management of the FLRA's financial statements.

Internal Review of FLRA Administrative PolicyContinuing

During this reporting period the FLRA Inspector General continued the review of FLRA policy, which includes an initial review of related laws and legislation as well as the FLRA policy. This review has revealed that 54 FLRA policies (34 of which were related to human resources) were cancelled and only 4 policies have been recreated and implemented by the Executive Director. This review is affirming that an extensive amount of FLRA's administrative policy requires immediate updates or revisions.

FLRA Inspector General PoliciesClosed

During this reporting period, the FLRA Inspector General updated the following Inspector General policies, which were created in 1998 and 1999, and created a new policy regarding contracting activities for FLRA Inspector General audits. All of these instructions were submitted to the FLRA Executive Director for implementation by August 31, 2006. These updated and new policies have not yet been implemented. These updated and new policies include:

- FLRA 2930.2 Audit and Internal Review Follow-Up
- FLRA 2920.1 Audit Policies and Procedures
- FLRA 6120.1 Fraud Prevention Problem
- FLRA 6130.1 Inspector General Assistance and Hotline Program
- FLRA 6110.1 Policies and Procedures for Conducting Investigations by the Office of the Inspector General
- FLRA 2910 Office of Inspector General Contract Services

Personally Identifiable Information AssessmentClosed

In response to the Chairman, PCIE/ECIE, the FLRA Inspector General conducted an assessment of the manner that the FLRA implemented and handled the FLRA's personally identifiable information (also defined as sensitive information) on its internal and external computers. This personally identifiable information pertains to the names, addresses, telephone numbers and social security numbers of Federal employees. It does not include e-mail accesses. This assessment pertained to specific questions provided by the PCIE/ECIE, which included security checklists for personally identifiable information transported, stored offsite or accessed remotely, Federal agency policy relating to this subject matter, Federal agency implemented protections for personally identifiable information stored offsite, compliance with NIST information security regulations, and OMB-06-15.

The FLRA Inspector General's Assessment was done primarily by personal observation because FLRA management did not provide the Inspector General with requested information, which related to PCIE/ECIE requirements for Inspector General Personally Identifiable Assessments. The FLRA Inspector General requested and was immediately provided with information from external Federal Security Information Officers and Management regarding proper encryptions for the remote access of FLRA personally identifiable information by the Department of Treasury and Department of Interior National Services Division. Both of these Agencies, which were involved with FLRA administrative information, affirmed that its internal subject information was not accessible externally.

This Inspector General assessment also affirmed that FLRA mission related sensitive information was not provided via computers or laptops by the FLRA. However several discussions with line management and employees indicated that once in a while an outside Federal agency employee or union member did e-mail personally identifiable information to the FLRA regarding cases or appeals filed with the FLRA instead of mailing it or faxing it. This was also affirmed by several documents provided to the FLRA Inspector General by external Federal or Union members who filed complaints with the Inspector General and provided information, which included several such e-mails.

The only problem indicated by this assessment was that the FLRA has not implemented 2005 prepared policy relating to NIST information security requirements or Office of Management and Budget (OMB)'s security requirements for personally identifiable information. Otherwise, based on this Inspector General assessment, it appears that the FLRA is in compliance with the rest of the subject requirements.

Federal Information Security Management Evaluation

Closed

OMB specifically identified FISMA reporting requirements for the Federal Inspectors General, which were addressed in an independent and objective manner, however several FLRA Inspector General requests for information from the FLRA CIO, (provided first to management) were not provided to the Inspector General by management in spite of several requests. The FLRA Inspector General's evaluation of FLRA's FISMA compliance involved Federal quality standards for inspections and audits. The FLRA Inspector General also requested an 2007 sufficient Office of Inspector General budget to contract the conduct of an independent and objective information technology testing for FISMA, NIST and OMB information technology security systems.

The FLRA Inspector General evaluation affirmed that most of the FLRA's information systems are low impact and most existing security system controls satisfy NIST security requirements. Those that have not been implemented include Information Technology policies created by the FLRA CIO/Director, Information Resource Management Division in 2005, hiring or training a current Information Resource Management employee to serve as an Information Technology Security Officer and eliminating an excessive amount of e-mail spams. Until information technology security policies are approved and implemented, the FLRA has a risk for cost overruns, re-work, and waste of resources.

This FLRA Inspector General evaluation did affirm that the FLRA CIO focused extensively on addressing previously identified vulnerabilities, did use the NIST 800-70 Security Configuration Checklist Program and used the 2003 Security Guide to upgrade the FLRA network. This evaluation also affirmed that the FLRA CIO created a POA&M, which related to the FLRA's mission and functions and implemented Continuity of Operations Plan to mitigate risks associated with service disruptions. FLRA has to continue focusing on keeping it's information security updated and address vulnerabilities when they are identified to prevent future problems.

FLRA Oversight Corrective Actions

The new FLRA Executive Director has begun to review FLRA Office of Inspector General findings and recommendations, which were not responded to after the issuance of FLRA Office of the Inspector General audits, internal reviews and investigations. The FLRA Inspector General recommended the FLRA Executive Director provide implementation dates for findings and recommendations from the last two years oversight activities first and then address previous recommendations and provide information that affirms implementation or future implementation dates or provide information that supports canceling these previous recommendations because of changes in the FLRA's administrative programs and management operations.

ADDITIONAL ACTIVITIES

Training

During this reporting period, the FLRA Inspector General attended the following training:

- PCIE/ECIE Conference
- Government Performance Summit
- Security Information
- Microsoft Vista (Potomac Forum)
- Government Executive Intelligence Reform
- FLRA Management Training
- Government Executive Strategic Sourcing
- Government Executive Best Practices in Contracting

Executive Counsel of Integrity and Efficiency (ECIE)

The FLRA Inspector General attends the ECIE monthly meetings on a regular basis to make sure that the FLRA Office of Inspector General is current and aware of operations and issues related to ECIE Inspectors General.

Review of Regulations

During this reporting period, the FLRA Inspector General reviewed:

- All FLRA Office of Inspector General instructions
- 45 FLRA Instructions
- PCIE/ECIE General Plan and Oversight Program for Financial Statement Audits

Oversight Corrective Actions

Security Issues

During this reporting period, the FLRA had no security issues.

The FLRA Office of the Inspector General findings and recommendations from 1998 to the present were submitted to FLRA management during this reporting period. Management was asked to provide information to the FLRA Inspector General regarding management actions related to addressing the oversight activities' findings and recommendations, which have been open from 1998 to the present. The new appointed FLRA Executive Director has begun to review the findings and corrective actions and has responded to the Inspector General regarding several findings related to programs and operations, which have changed. As indicated in the 2005 Inspector General FISMA report, the FLRA Chief Information Officer/Acting Director of Information Resource Management has addressed many of the FLRA's information security corrective actions. New information technology policies have been submitted to FLRA management, which must be approved before they can be implemented.

The following list contains all findings and corrective actions not yet addressed by FLRA management.
