In 1962 President John F. Kennedy signed Executive Order 10988, granting collective bargaining rights to federal employees. For half a century, federal labor-management relations has contributed in large measure to the high performing, dynamic and diverse public-sector workforce and effective public business we have today.

To learn more, visit www.flra.gov/50th_Anniversary_EO10988